INTRODUCTION

0-----0
I started taking up FAQing Channel F games again in my quest to FAQ every game for that system. As you have seen in my previous Channel F guides, I borrow my maternal grandpa's Channel F to play the games and make guides for them instead of the emulator but I still include the controls for those using the emulator.

Next Channel F game on my list is Casino Poker. I've done plenty of guides for card games in the past and I can very well use the basic information from one of the other Poker FAQs I may have done before and let the main focus be on the controls and console-specific content.

-Aces usually are the highest ranked cards but are the lowest rank when it is the start of a Straight/Straight Flush ending in 5.

-This version of Poker is 5-card stud. The cards are dealt out to all three of the participants. Press Up to fold if you don't want to go forward with your hand. If you want to continue, place your bet by pressing Right then you press Down.

-When a bet is placed, press Up to fold or Down to proceed. Now press Right to add to the bet which increases the minimum bet for the next player.

-Once everybody is done betting, the next phase starts where you choose up to three cards that you want to give back. Your opponents will do the same and the betting starts again.

-When the final round of betting is done. Everyone's cards are revealed and the player with the best hand is the winner of the pot. Refer to the winning hands below:

Winning Hands

These are the winning hands are listed below according to their rank from high to low.
